

CRIMINAL LAW READING ASSIGNMENTS

Professor Humbach

August 2025

Casebook (required): DRESSLER & GARVEY, CRIMINAL LAW (10th ed., 2025)

* * * * *

Important: Class preparation is essential. It may affect your grade if, on three or more occasions, you are not present or not prepared when called on, or if you ask to not be called on.

Course Webpage: For more info and materials, see our Criminal Law Course Webpage (link at humbach.com)

* * * * *

Read the following pages of the casebook, including the problems that follow the cases, except as indicated. Also, be ready to answer the questions in the “Readings” for the day’s assignment. The “Readings” will be posted on Criminal Law Course WebPage (link at my website, humbach.com) as they are produced. The point of these questions in the “Readings” is to help you prepare for class and to highlight the main points in the readings,

- Initially, we will average about 3 of the following “readings” every 2 weeks.
- References to “MPC” mean the Model Penal Code, which begins on p. 961 of your casebook.
